

Fatal Lies by Frank Tallis

This is the third instalment of Frank Tallis' Liebermann Papers. Psychiatrist and follower of Freud Max Liebermann is called in to help investigate a seeming suicide at a secluded and rambling military school set high in the forests around Vienna. A young cadet is found dead – his body lacerated with razor wounds. Suspicion falls on an elite group of cadets, with a taste for sadism and dangerous games. But there are other motives for murder here in this plot twisting, page turning thriller that will have readers guessing right up until the end.
