Forthcoming Events

Monday September 21st – October 3rd

Location? Location? Location? 2009

From Monday 21st September, the Westcountry Studies Library will once again be running its Location? Location? Location? promotion.

As in previous years, staff have dug deep into the collections, and have put together a selection of 50 mystery pictures - which you and your readers are invited to help identify.

This is the fourth year that the library has run this event. Last year we had a particularly good response from the public. Over 50% of our mystery pictures were solved, and we were able to file them away, named and labelled.

This year we are putting the pictures on Flickr (from 21st September). Visit www.flickr.com/photos/whereindevon/ to see the Location? Location? Location? photostream, Where in Devon? If you have a Yahoo email account, you can add your thoughts and ideas on the pictures - but even if you don't have a Yahoo email account, you can still visit Flickr to see what suggestions other people are coming up with.

The displays will be in the foyer of Exeter Central Library, and in the Westcountry Studies Library, from Monday 21st September to Sunday 4th October. They will continue in the Westcountry Studies Library until the 18th October, and will then travel round some of the branch libraries (further details will be out soon on the Local Studies homepage: www.devon.gov.uk/localstudies).

Last year we featured a striking picture of ladies dining - definitely a posh girls' night out. This year it's the gents' turn! Can you help us solve this picture (P&D58794)? Do you recognise the building or know who these gentlemen are? If so, please get in touch with staff in the Westcountry Studies Library.

Incidentally, we never cracked the picture of the ladies dining (P&D58609). You'll find it on Flickr, if you want to have another look (<http://www.flickr.com/photos/whereindevon/3906215237/>)

Posters and leaflets will be heading your way later this week to help promote the displays.

More news and events

Wednesday November 11th 10 a.m until 4p.m - Ordnance Survey Mapping Day

The Westcountry Studies Library is now an official mapping agent for Ordnance Survey. The launch event to be held in the library will enable you to find out about the services available. A representative from the Ordnance Survey will be joining us and there will be an exhibition from the map collection to link in with the two hundredth anniversary of O.S mapping in Devon.

Local History Day

Saturday February 27th 2010

Still in the planning stages but we this event will be held in partnership with the Exeter Local History Society. Further details to follow.

Recent news

Higher Cemetery Open Day Saturday September 5th 2009

Staff from the Westcountry Studies Library spent the day at the Higher Cemetery in Exeter where we were able to show a selection of maps and illustrations held in the collection. Many of the visitors were researching their family histories and were interested to hear of the weekly drop in sessions held in the library.

There are many interesting stories behind those buried there and visitors were given tours throughout the day and the most fascinating of these were revealed. These include Harry Hems and one visitor was particularly interested to hear that the library holds a number of volumes of Harry Hems scrapbooks. The cemetery is well worth a visit.
